GERMAN AIRMEN ATTEMPT SECOND ENGLISH AIR RAID

Defensive Forces Succeed in Stopping Germans on Outskirts of London

Second Raid Covered Southeastern Section of England and Reached London—Score of Casualties Reported—Fifteen Killed Monday Night—Gen. Haig's Men Repulse Army of Crown Prince Rupprecht in Flanders.

BULLETIN
LONDON, Sept. 25.—Another hostile airplane raid on London took place tonight. There were two attacks apparently, for after a forty minute quiet interval anti-aircraft guns resumed firing in the London district.

In the first attack, after brisk firing by defensive guns lasting only ten minutes, the raiders were driven off without succeeding in reaching the city of London.

The firing of the anti-aircraft guns in the second attack was of only brief duration. The raiders were finally driven off and the police gave out the "all clear" signal at 9:30 o'clock.

"The Thames estuary was again the object of a hostile air raid this evening. The Kent and Essex coast was crossed at various points and a few bombs were dropped, but no casualties as yet reported.

"One raider penetrated as far as the southeastern outskirts of London. Where two bombs fell, causing some twenty casualties."

For the second night in succession German airmen have raided the southeastern section of England and reached London.

Tuesday night's visitation apparently was staged earlier than the one on Monday, but the Germans did not succeed in penetrating to the heart of the city, being stopped on the outskirts by the defensive forces. A score of casualties are reported. Latest reports on the raid Monday night showed fifteen dead and seventy injured. The German airplanes Tuesday night followed the same course as the raiders of Monday night attempting to approach London thru Kent and Essex and up the Thames. Little property damage was done Monday night. British airmen and the anti-aircraft guns of London's defenses making it too hot for the Germans to stay long. The airship raid of Monday night on the Yorkshire and Lincolnshire coasts had little success. The Zeppelins did not penetrate far inland and bombs dropped at the coast town caused injuries to three women.

The army of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria became active again Tuesday and made desperate attempts to retake the ground gained by the British last Thursday near the Ypres-Menin road in Flanders. In the first assaults the Germans succeeded in entering the British lines at two points. Field Marshal Haig's men fought back valiantly and, addition to withstanding further attacks by the Germans straightened out their line. The day's efforts brought nothing to the Germans but additional casualties. The great artillery activity is in progress on the sector east of Ypres.

Northeast of Verdun, the infantry activity has slackened. After their ineffectual efforts of Monday the Germans attacked the French near the Bois Le Châume early Tuesday. This attack altho aided by liquid fire also was repulsed. Berlin claims officially to have taken trenches here on Monday and to have held them against counter-attacks. On the Aisne from the artillery battle continues. There has not been great activity on the other fronts. In the Trentino in the region of Monte Nero the Austro-Hungarians exploded a mine under the Italian positions but the Italian barrage fire prevented the enemy from making any gains. The Italians have repulsed further local attacks on the Bainsizza plateau northeast of Gorizia. German efforts to recapture the new positions gained by the Russians southeast of Riga on the Pskoff high road have been checked by the Russians.

A WORTH WHILE PLAN.

The local committees in charge of the campaign to secure a library war fund are meeting with earnest support on the part of the public. This is a nation-wide campaign to raise a fund to provide books for the soldiers. There will not only be books but library facilities including tables and chairs and especially for sick and wounded soldiers and sailors both at home and abroad this fund will mean much. The arrangements are such that practically every dollar contributed will be used for the actual construction of buildings or for the purchase of books.

The American Library Association has the general direction of the campaign and library workers all over the country are joining earnestly in the movement which is one of the most practical yet inaugurated for the betterment and entertainment of soldiers. A few dollars given to this fund will indeed be worthily subscribed.

EXPORT FIGURES

INCREASED BY WAR.

Seventy-eight per cent of the more than six billion dollars' worth of American goods exported in the fiscal year 1917 consisted of wholly or partially manufactured goods. In 1914, the last normal year before the war, the percentage of such goods exported was only 59, according to a statement issued today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, of the department of commerce.

In 1914 exports of manufactures ready for consumption were valued at $724,908,000 or 31 per cent of the total exports, while in 1917 their value reached $2,543,923,212, or 47 per cent of the total. Manufactures for further use in manufacturing were exported in 1914 to the value of $374,224,210, or 16 per cent of the total, while as $1,191,787,957 worth, or 19 per cent of the total, was exported in 1917. The exports of foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured amounted to $293,218,336 in 1914, or 12 1/2 per cent of the total, and in 1917 to $739,037,884, or 12 per cent of the total.

AS SHERMAN SEES WAR AIMS.

Senator Sherman's course in the senate with reference to some war legislation has been subjected to some criticism, but certainly his views on the present situation, given recently have the right ring.

He said:

"This war must be fought to a conclusion. The United States government must be backed by a united American people. We must join our efforts with the Allied nations against Germany who is now the common enemy."

"The American people are fighting for free seas, to declare the barbarous submarine warfare piracy to limit armaments to join civilized powers in a league to prevent or minimize wars; to protect weaker nations in their right and independence and guarantee them against aggressions of more powerful peoples such as Belgium suffered from Germany; and to persuade or compel nations not only to make, but to keep just treaties."

"While this war is on it must be fought and won so as to relieve future generations from the awful sacrifices which must not now be made in vain. It must be understood, now, too, that Americans who won't work are as bad as a soldier who won't fight."

THE MIDDLE GROUND.

The Outlook, in the current issue, presents a very interesting article on "Business as usual." The writer indicates that this is well enough as a slogan and says it might be possible to keep business going as usual if the country was engaged in a war of only a few months' duration. England and France started out on that same policy, urging people to spend money as usual and to live in their customary way. Then came the Zeppelin raids and all of a sudden the people realized that conditions were not as usual and that it would be following a false line of reasoning to endeavor to live and spend in the usual ways.

The purpose of the Outlook writer is to indicate—and he does clearly—that the people of America must realize, as do their allies, that "business as usual" carried out consistently would mean many unpatriotic practices. The writer suggests, for example, that the owner of a large estate could not now reasonably use a large force of men to lay out a park system because to use men in this work would take them out of other lines of activity where their services are vastly needed. Under normal conditions an investor might reasonably send a sum of money into some foreign country for an investment development which promised good returns. Now it would be unpatriotic to devote money, thought or energy to a commercial enterprise in some far-away field, when there is the earnest need at home for the best attention to industrial and commercial problems.

Doing business as usual carries with it the idea of continuing just the customary methods of business, following out the usual round of social pleasures. The individual who now does "business as usual" does not take into account the changed conditions of American life. Waste now is unpatriotic, idleness now is unpatriotic, selfishness now is unpatriotic, and he who spends his time largely in pursuit of pleasure is placing self above country. "Business as usual" is all right in a limited way.

A pension system we must have. The insurance feature is not essential, but, if made practically self-supporting, it will provide the soldier with means of assuring his family an increased indemnity in case of his death or disability incurred as a result of his service to the nation, and will not be an unreasonable burden upon the country.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

September 26, 1849—Mr. James Adams, of Quincy, writes from Green River, 80 miles beyond the South Pass, on his way to California, that his company saw nothing to discourage them until they reached the Black Hills, where they were never out of sight of a dead ox, and could sometimes count a dozen in view at one time. His company got thru the Hills without losing one of their cattle.

THREE RECRUITS FOR THE REGULAR ARMY

Three recruits were signed at the post office recruiting station by Sergeant Stirling Tuesday. All three men signed for the Engineering Corps and left last night over the Wabash for Springfield, from which point they will go to St. Louis, where they will be sworn into the federal service at Jefferson Barracks. These men are Richard E. Smith, of Jacksonville, his brother Marcus E. Smith, of Concord, and Ordain P. Fox of Jacksonville. The first named is one of the well known and popular barbers of the city, being employed for a number of years at the Drexel shop on West State street.

The two Smith boys signed for the Engineering Corps and ask that they be recommended as railway brakemen. Mr. Fox also specifies the engineering corps and asks recommendation to a clerkship or storekeepers' position in the railway operating department.

Mr. Fox's ancestry is full of fighting blood as a short perusal of his family history will indicate. He is the only son of Patrick V. Fox, a 1/2 Nannie Campbell Fox. He is a direct descendant of Brig. General William Campbell, the hero of Kings Mountain; of Captain John Beard and Captain James McDonald, Revolutionary Indian fighters and surveyors; also of Captain Edmonson of Tennessee and of Captain Peter de St. Julian, known to history as Captain Peter Julian, son of Ran de St. Julian, French Noble Huguenot, who settled on a large grant of land in South Carolina in 1700. Captain Peter Julian led the first revolt against the English government in North Carolina and fought thru the Revolution.

There are three features to the bill, two of which are new. In addition to the pension for the injured soldier or his dependents, there is an insurance plan under which a soldier may take not to exceed $10,000 of life insurance at a premium of approximately $8 per thousand.

The other new feature is a provision for an allowance to a soldier's dependents while he is in the army or navy. Since the selective draft law contemplates the exemption of men with dependent families, this latter provision will apply almost entirely to those who volunteered and to those who were drafted but waived exemption to which they would be entitled on account of dependents.

Although the language of the bill as passed by the house was rather loose in some particulars and shows signs of haste, it is evident that an earnest effort was made to work out a practical and equitable plan for aid to the deserving veteran and his family. The senate will undoubtedly improve the provisions of the bill before passing it.

As might be expected, there was considerable opposition to the insurance feature of the bill, and this would indeed be an unwise provision if it meant a permanent plan of governmental life insurance. Limited to the duration of the war and applied to the army and navy only, it is subject to the minimum of criticism. By providing that the insurance, in case of death of the insured, shall be paid in installments, precaution is taken against the evils which would likely result from payment of a lump-sum insurance, likely to invite extravagance and a later appeal for increased pensions. It would be manifestly impracticable to establish an insurance system as a substitute for pensions, for, with the losses paid and spent, the dependents would soon be looking to the government for pensions as though no insurance had been paid.

A pension system we must have. The insurance feature is not essential, but, if made practically self-supporting, it will provide the soldier with means of assuring his family an increased indemnity in case of his death or disability incurred as a result of his service to the nation, and will not be an unreasonable burden upon the country.

The 1918 STUTZ CARS

(The Stutz Motor Car Co.'s Own Statement)

The 16-valve 4-cylinder Stutz Motor is the result of several years' practical and successful experience, under our own personal management, having met all competition on special constructed speedways and rough roads. This motor is not a one night's dream, but the result of exhaustive tests obtained from laboratory and actual road tests at low and high speed, as well as for general economy. The sturdiness of construction, the careful workmanship, the best quality of material, insuring dependability and efficiency is evident in this motor, and is characteristic of Stutz design.

The T head type motor is used, and our past experience has taught us that while the valve in the head construction is slightly more powerful, it has a number of objectionable features which favor T head construction.

The valves in a 16-valve 4-cylinder motor are of smaller size eliminating the possibility of warping and crystallizing from high speed service. The wear on the cams and valve mechanism is reduced very materially. The valve area is greater, however, affording longer duration of maximum gas flow and cleaner scavenging, valve efficiency being of more importance than increased number of cylinders.

In summary, this motor affords high power, speed, flexibility, simplicity and especially smoothness and economy in operation, and is capable of performing every demand of motor car users.

SMALL TOWN FURNISHES PATRIOTIC EXAMPLE

Citizens Undertook to Make Their Community Life Serviceable and Uplifting — War Emergency Union Formed.

The Woman's committee of the Council of National Defense at Washington has issued the following report of the remarkable achievements of one small mid-western town:

The men and women of this mid-western suburban town of about 4,000 people were animated by the desire common to all Americans to be of real service to the nation at this time. They came to the conclusion that the best way to begin was to make their community life as fine and serviceable and uplifting as it could be. A democratic group of representative men and women passed the situation thoroughly and made up their minds what, in general, needed to be done to carry out their purpose. The War Emergency Union was formed, the men choosing certain lines of work, the woman certain others. A joint committee was established in the Community House, with a paid Secretary and Volunteer help.

1. Finance.

2. Recruiting.

3. Drills for home defense.

4. Food Production.

Vacant areas were plowed by tractor and assigned to citizens; home gardens encouraged; lectures on gardening given; and seeds and fertilizer furnished to boys and girls, who were under responsible leadership.

5. Organized sale of surplus garden produce in the village thru one of the markets, and established a co-operative central delivery for all the stores.

6. Started an Honor Roll placed in the center of the village for all men entering the Army and Navy.

7. On July 4, on the village green reproduced with full detail of costumes and wording, two dramatic scenes from American history—"Washington Receiving his Sword and Commission from the Continental Congress" and "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." These proved a splendid stimulant to patriotic endeavor.

8. Developed the Boy Scout organization to great usefulness.

9. Organized sports and entertainments for men at an adjacent training station.

The women called together all the presidents of the local organizations of women in the village, including some women to act for the unorganized women, and formed a local unit of the Woman's Committee Council of National Defense. A permanent chairman was elected, who, with two other women chosen by the central group, became members of the joint committee of the War Emergency Union. The women chose for their work:

1. Registration of village women for service.

2. Food conservation.

(a) This included lectures and demonstrations by several home economics experts on all aspects of food preservation and substitution; household and personal economy; budget making, etc. All these lectures are given in the Woman's Club house, and are free to women in the village, the Club assuming all expenses.

(b) Actual canning, drying and preserving are carried on in the school house kitchen in charge of an expert, women bringing their own vegetables and fruit, and paying the actual cost of jars, etc.

(c) Certain days are set aside in the school for the members of the Relief and Aid Society to can surplus vegetables donated from private gardens, to be used next winter in charity work.

3. Red Cross.

One parish house is open every day for the making of surgical supplies, hospital garments and comfort bags for soldiers at home and abroad.

4. Navy League.

5. Allied Relief.

Every sewing society and church guild or fraternal group in the village has agreed to keep in session all summer to make garments for the women and children of our allies.

Money to buy materials for the work is raised by systematic collection of waste paper twice a week. This is marketed with a substantial profit in a city sixteen miles distant; delivery trucks otherwise returning empty are the means of transportation.

6. Maintenance of Social Agencies.

A group under the direction of the Relief and Aid Society has undertaken to see that all local charities are maintained. Volunteers are assigned from the registration lists to help at play-

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. C. S. FRENCH

Funeral services for Mrs. C. S. French were held at the French homestead in Chapin Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. There was a large company of friends of the deceased and of the family. Dr. A. B. Morey was in charge of the services, which were of a very impressive kind. Music was supplied by Mrs. Abe Weihl, Mrs. A. R. Gregory, John L. Johnson and T. H. Rapp. After the services at the house had been concluded the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery. The many beautiful flowers were cared for by Misses Anna Onken, Florene Martin and Isabel Fox. The bearers were Judge O. P. Thompson, A. M. Masters, George R. Fox, John Onken, Alfred Anderson and George Anderson. In the course of his remarks Dr. Morey said:

The Mystery of Life

"We gather this afternoon under the shadow of a strange providence. All life is a mystery, but sometimes there is a mystery within the mystery which has a deep meaning. God never acts without a wise, loving purpose and we are to look for the purpose. We praise a novelist whose plot baffles us the greatest. If we have confidence in the author's ability to bring about the happy end, our delight is increased, when we are most bewildered and puzzled about how it is going to turn out. Why should we not have the confidence in the Divine Author of our life, who is writing on our experience, page by page, events that satisfies Him. When the plot is most involved it is then most clearly in His mind, and the darkest page is to glow most satisfactorily, when we shall read it in the light of His good purpose and providence. What is His purpose in our trials and bereavements? The Psalmist said, 'We went thru fire and thru water but Thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.' Fire and water are opposites. We use water to put out fire and use fire to turn water into steam. If we are in line with the leadership of God we come to our wealth thru fiery trials and floods of tears, thru the greatest contradictions of life, joy and sorrow, health and suffering.

Light and Shadow.

Yesterday I watched the children coming out of school to play. They were shouting and jumping, full of life. Life was pulsating thru their hearts, moving in their feet, echoing in their voices. In the afternoon I buried an old friend in the cemetery, all was still as death. There was no sign of life except the grass on the graves. The gulf between joy and sorrow, between peace and war is not so deep—so dark—as the great gulf between life and death. But we went thru the fire and the water, says the Psalmist, and God brought us out into a wealthy place. It takes all the light and shadow to make a summer. We must have December as well as June. The earth rolls on to harvest thru the bitter cold and heat and the storms and sunshine, thru night and day, and you and I need all that ever comes to us, if our life is to be golden by and bye.

The Blessedness of Rest

"And what is the richest wealth in which God promises to bring us? If there is one word which sums up the gospel and which expresses the wealth this beloved mother enjoys now, I know not what it is save that word 'rest.' A little child was very sick, her mother sang to it all the sweet songs she knew, and spoke of God and his love. But the little one was restless and fretful still. Then the mother stooped down and without a word she took her child into her arms, and then the child with a look of sweet peace, said 'Ah, mama, that is what I want.' And that is what this tired, worried saint of God wanted most of all—rest. She went thru sickness and health, sorrow and joy, but God has at last brought her out into the wealth of heaven, the everlasting rest of God's love. And because our living friends have not yet come into this wealth we do not see them and cannot tell till they are gone. They are too near, we see only our side of them, we misjudge, we magnify or minimize. Death readjusts things, helps us to forget the wrongs and remember the best. What kind of things do we remember best when our friends are taken from us? The kind of things that we remember best furnishes a good clue to the kind of heart we have. As life advances, memory grows richer and becomes a foretaste of the wealth that is waiting for us.

HENDERSON HEADS COUNT YODD FELLOWS

Jacksonville Man Elected President of Morgan County Odd Fellows Association—Arthur G. Cody is Secretary-Treasurer—Much Enthusiasm Displayed by Delegates—Meeting to be Held here November 27.

At a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the hall of Urania Lodge No. 243 the Morgan County Odd Fellows Association was formed by the election of E. E. Henderson of Urania 243 as president and A. G. Cody of Illini No. 4 as Secretary-Treasurer.

In addition to the above the following vice presidents were named one from each lodge in the county aside from the two Jacksonville lodges: Meredosia, Charles James; Lynnville, E. A. Ranson; Murrayville, Frank Sooy; Chapin, C. E. Filson; Concord, H. Rentschler; Arcadia, J. J. Clark; Franklin, W. N. Luttrell; Woodson, Edward Gallagher; Waverly, M. Van Winkle; Nortonville, Leonard Dalton.

The delegates met at the Dunlap hotel at noon where they had luncheon and then adjourned to Urania hall. The meeting was called to order by E. E. Henderson. W. N. Luttrell was selected as temporary chairman, and J. Marshall Miller as temporary secretary.

Constitution Adopted.

Judge W. E. Thomson offered a motion that the chair appoint a committee of three to report on the adoption of a constitution. The chair appointed W. E. Thomson, Jacksonville, F. L. Hungerford, Nortonville and E. E. Henderson, Jacksonville. The committee reported the following which was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Constitution.ARTICLE I.*Name and Object.

The name of this association shall be the "Morgan County Odd Fellows' Association," and its objects shall be the furtherance of Odd-Fellowship and to increase the membership of the order by a united mutual effort among the lodges of Morgan County, Illinois.

ARTICLE II.Membership.

The members of this Association shall consist of each sub-ordinate lodge of the I. O. O. F. in Morgan County, and each shall maintain its good standing by paying its annual dues to the Association.

ARTICLE III.Officers and Duties.

Section 1. The officers of the Association shall be a President, Secretary-Treasurer, and a Vice-President from each lodge not represented by the President and the Secretary-Treasurer.

Section 2. The duties of said officers shall be the duties that usually devolve upon like officers in other similar organizations. In addition, each officer shall be the official representative of this Association in the sub-ordinate lodge in which he holds office.

Section 3. There shall be an Executive Committee of all Association, which shall consist of all of said officers, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum.

Section 4. All officers shall be elected by the delegates at the annual meeting of the Association and shall serve for the term of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE IV.Delegates, Meetings, Dues.

Section 1. Each member of this Association in good standing shall be entitled to elect and send three delegates to the annual meeting and each delegates shall have one vote.

Section 2. The annual meeting of the Association shall be held in Morgan County at the time and place decided upon by the delegates assembled; or by the Executive Committee should an emergency arise. At such meeting officers shall be elected for the ensuing year and other business matters attended to.

Section 4. The dues of this Association shall be 5 cents per member of each lodge, based on members in standing on July 1st in each year. Dues shall be payable on or before September 1st annually, except the present year's dues shall be payable on November 1st.

After the adoption of the constitution C. E. Filson moved that Jacksonville be selected as the place of holding the first meeting, the date to be selected later. The motion carried.

A motion also was made that the chair appoint a committee of five to recommend nominations for officers. The committee was composed of C. E. Williamson, Jacksonville, Arthur Ellis, Jacksonville, F. L. Hungerford, Nortonville, C. E. Filson, Chapin and W. C. Hart, Franklin. The committee retired and selected the names as given above, and the report was made by C. E. Williamson.

President Expresses Appreciation.

In taking the chair the newly elected president thanked the delegates for the honor of being the first president of the association. He called attention to the need of cooperation if the association was to make a success. "Your officers said Mr. Henderson, "will do all they can to make the movement a success but in order to do so we must have the hearty support of every member."

The president then called for remarks from the delegates. The main discussion was as to the time of holding the annual meeting. There was a diversity of opinion on this matter but all were agreed that it should be at a time when the country members were not busy and also when the roads were suitable for traveling.

It was also pointed out by some that it was desirable that it be held when the grand officers could be present. Others thought that the association was primarily for the purpose of promoting the interests of Odd Fellowship in the county and that it was not essential to have the grand officers present.

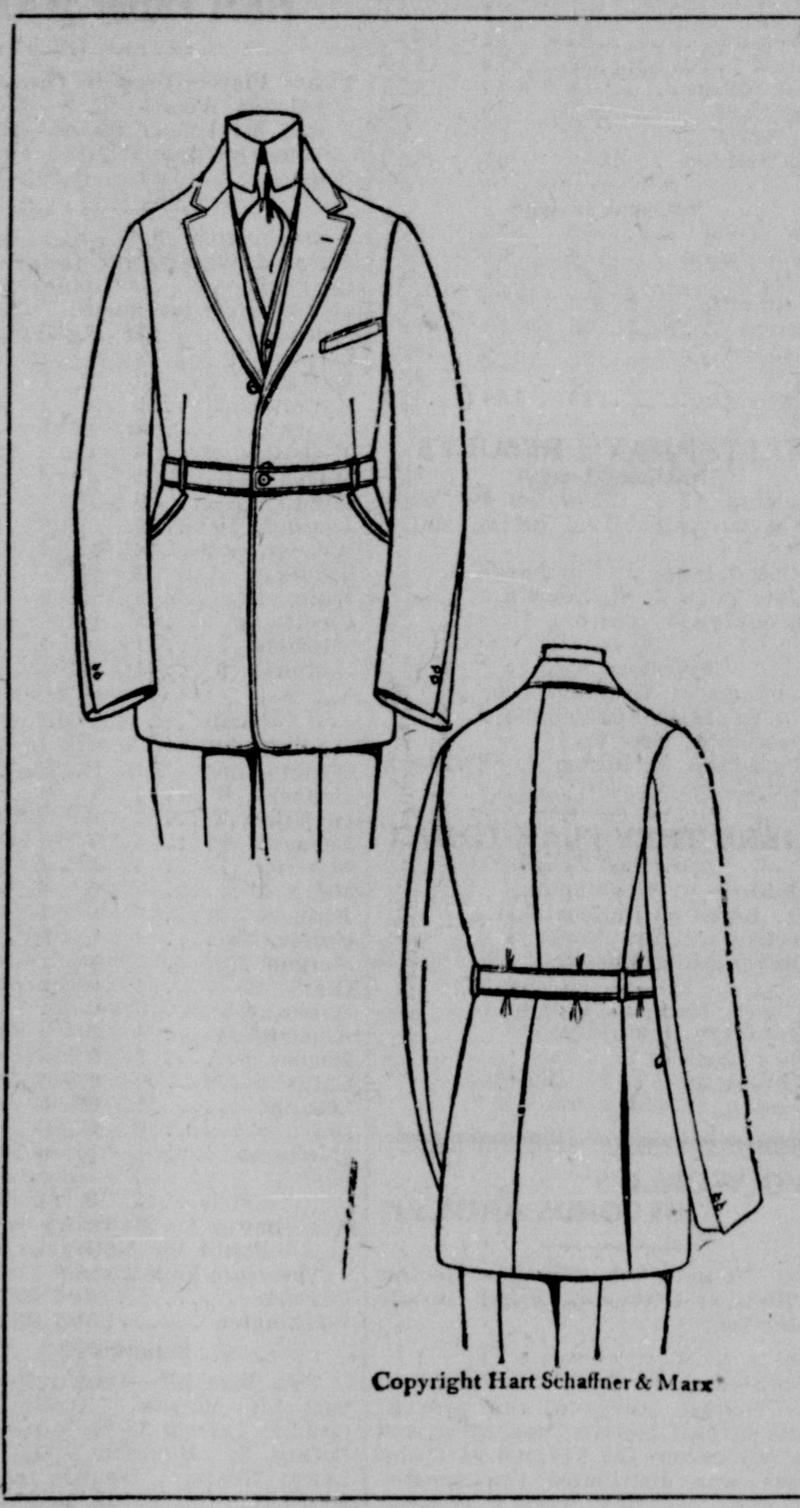

Annual Meeting in Fall.

Upon one point, however, all were in agreement.

Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges

Are Made to Save Work and Worry and Fuel Too

And then, besides the back-saving elevated oven, there are many other convenient features. For instance, there is the glass over door—you can watch your baking without having to open the door. This means better baking, and you get real enjoyment in doing it. Then, too, the ranges are very simple to operate; they heat quickly, with no annoying waits, and they are easy to keep clean and pretty.

The Fuel-Saving Draft

Besides saving work, these ranges save fuel—and fuel saved is money saved. The patented pre-heated draft is a wonderful improvement in range construction. The draft is heated to at least 500 degrees before being admitted through the grates. This draft, together with the secondary hot blast draft over the fire, means a remarkable saving of fuel.

A Leonard Hi-Oven Range is an investment. It pays dividends by the fuel saved, work saved, and added comfort and satisfaction.

Stop the "Snuffles"

If you want to make your distressed babies easy and comfortable, give

Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is just what they ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and wheezy breathing. It stops cough, too.

Foley's Honey and Tar tastes good and the little ones like it. It contains no morphine, chloroform or other drug that you wouldn't like to give to young children. Do not accept a substitute.

Mr. H. Cade, Springfield, Ill., writes: "My baby was stricken with a severe cold and cold at one month old. I gave him ten to fifteen drops of Foley's Honey and Tar every three hours and it surely did help him. His health is back to normal."

Lutherans Will Observe 400th Anniversary of Reformation

(By Rev. J. G. Kuppler)

What Does the Lutheran Church Stand For?

It stands for all of the Bible, the whole Bible and nothing but the Bible. Says Thomas Carlyle: "The period of the reformation was a judgment day for Europe, when all the nations were presented with an open Bible." Since the time when Martin Luther discovered the dust covered copy of a complete Bible, chained to the wall of the library of the University of Erfurt and learned its blessed truths and brought it forth and gave it back to Christendom—since that time the Lutheran church has defended the Bible against all attacks from within and without Christendom.

For thus writes St. Peter answering the old text scriptures which he terms "the sure word of prophecy": "The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man, but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." And St. Paul writes concerning the new testament words: "Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth" (1 Cor. 11:13). The Lutheran church believes and teaches that the sixty-six books of the Bible are the final revelation of God to a sinful world. (Heb. 1:1-2) "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners, spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son, whom He hath appointed heir of all things, by whom He also made the world;" that they are true and inerrant in every part; that they are the only form by which Christian faith and Christian life must be determined.

Sufficiency of the Bible.

The Lutheran church therefore has no room for higher criticism and rationalism which are attempting to destroy this old Bible, page by page and would have us inquire each morning as we read the latest news: "Where is the Bible today?" How much have Professor This and Doctor That after their latest researches left us of the dear old book?

The Lutheran church also believes in the sufficiency of the Bible as a rule of Christian faith and life. Paul, writing to Timothy, declares of the holy scriptures, which Timothy has learned, from a child, "That they are able to make thee wise unto salvation." (1 Tim. 3:15-16.) How much more is this true of the holy scriptures since the new testament has been added to the old?

Some there be who, indeed, believe in the Bible and speak in glowing terms of the Bible, but they do not believe the holy scriptures to be

FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE

Duty Demands Robust Health

Fight to get it and keep it

Fight—fight day in and day out to prevent being overtaken by ills and ails. Keep wrinkles from marring the cheek and the body from losing its youthful appearance and buoyancy. Fight when ill-health is coming with its pallor and pains, defects and declining powers. Fight to stay its course and drive it off.

But fight intelligently. Don't fight without weapons that can win the day for without the intelligent use of effective weapons the pallor spreads and weakness grows and a seemingly strong man or woman oftentimes becomes a pray to ills after all.

You will not find this class of persons in the hypoferin ranks. No unhealthy, dull, druggy, droopy persons in that line. It is a hale, hearty, robust aggregation of quick-steppers who view life in a joyous frame of mind and are mentally and physically equal to any emergency. Hypoferin stands for sound body and sound mind—the invigorating tonic of the times—powerful and unsurpassed as a health restorer, vitalized and health preserver.

Fight to hold the vigor of a sound body with hypoferin or to stay the process of decay and restore health and strength—you win. This tonic of amazing, wonder-working properties has been approved by physicians as a restorer and safeguard of health.

It is a thoroughly scientific preparation of the very elements necessary to tone up the stomach and nerves, to build strong, vital tissue, make pure blood, firm flesh and solid, active, tireless muscles.

Hypoferin contains those mighty strength-producing agents, lecithin and iron peptone, the best adapted to benefit the body and its organs. Its ingredients are absolutely necessary to the blood. In nine cases out of ten a run-down condition, pallid, pale complexion, the body and mind of frail bodies are due to lack of lecithin and iron peptone in the system.

Your mental and physical strength and endurance depend upon a well-balanced ration of ladies' diet; steady, dependable nerves and a healthy stomach. With these you can meet life at any angle.

This wonder tonic, hypoferin, which is as perfect as science can get to nature, meets every essential demand of the human organism. It is safe and sure and a boon to run-down, worn-out men and women. It gives the body its own way of bringing color to the cheeks, strength to the body and keeping the vigor and buoyancy of youth. The power and mint way of selecting beauty is not needed by hypoferin men and girls. Their blood, filled with nature's beauty stores, creates conditions that give firmness and grace to the body and the girl.

No need of going through life sickly and always feeling miserable in this age of medical science. Join the hypoferin ranks. It is up to you to spring snap and vigor you ought to have and bring life into your body and mind that inspires the confidence that you confront the world on an equal footing with anyone.

Hypoferin is sold in jars and packages or direct from us for $1.50 per jar. It is well worth the price.

LETTER FROM ARMY CHAPLAIN IN FRANCE

Rev. Jesse S. Dancey Writes Dr. Harker of Experiences with Soldiers at the Front.

Dr. J. R. Harker has received the following letter from Rev. Jesse S. Dancey, giving an interesting account of his work as chaplain with the troops in France. Rev. Mr. Dancey was formerly the pastor of a prominent Englewood church, and was among the first to leave for France when the need arose. He is well known in this city, having been one of the commencement speakers at Illinois Woman's College last year, and this year was in charge of a series of meetings during the week of prayer at the college. The letter follows:

General Hospital No. 18,
B. E. F. France, Aug. 23, 1917
Dr. Joseph R. Harker,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Friend:

For some reason I have thought often of you and the college the last few days. I presume there are at least two good reasons for it, first, the recollection of two delightful visits at the college and secondly the fact that school will begin again in a few weeks. I have been wondering whether or not you had launched your new financial campaign or is it possible that the kaiser is responsible for putting a quietus on it for the time?

Do we use our reason? Most certainly we do. But not in the role of censor of the holy scriptures, but rather to understand the revelations of our God. And we find that we have use for all the wisdom and enlightenment God has given us and we can possibly acquire by labor and toil.

Authority in Religion.

We thus stand for authority in religion. Not human authority—for nothing human can be perfect and entirely dependable—but divine authority, the Bible, the only authority ever recognized by the Apostles and by the true church of Christ. As a result of all this you will not find Lutheran pulpits giving utterance to contradictory religious views compelling when listening: "Wonder what this man's views are?" True Lutheran pulpits everywhere are proclaiming one and the same thing, the Bible.

The Lutheran church also believes in the right of the Christian people to interpret the scriptures. This does not mean the right of Christian people to put into the Bible their own thoughts and notions. That is not interpreting the Bible. It means that every Christian has the right to go direct to the Bible without interference on the part of some higher authority and to let the Bible speak to him. It was to the people that Christ addressed the injunction: "Search the scriptures for in them ye thing ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me." (John 5:39.) It was to the Christian people, the church members, that the most of the gospels and epistles were sent and sent to be read and pondered over and interpreted. It was of the church members of Berea that Luke said, when Paul and Silas came to them and preached the gospel: "They searched the scriptures daily whether these things were so." (Acts 17:10-11.)

To give unto the church or any human authority the right to interpret the Bible for the individual and to make the interpretation binding upon the individual's conscience means but to fetter the Christian conscience. It means a blind faith, which must accept a religion that some one else makes for him. It means a faith like that of the Bohemian Collier who, when asked: "What do you believe?" answered: "I believe what the church believes." "What does the church believe?" "The church believes what I believe." "Well, what do you and the church believe?" "We believe the same thing."

Nowhere in the Bible does Christ demand of his "free" children to obey the church or any ecclesiastical authority as tho their decesses were binding our conscience. Says our Lord Himself: "One is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren." (Mat. 23:8.) And it is well that it is so. For we know that even churches and councils and synods may err as they have erred in the past and Peter erred constraining Paul to say to him: "I withheld him to the face." (Gal. 2:11.) We need only to turn to the pages of history during the dark centuries preceding the reformation. And as the reader ponders over these pages of history he will turn away from then with the deepened conviction, "The Bible, the dear old Bible is the only safe guide and authority in Christendom; and every Christian must stand up for his right to appeal direct to God."

Yours,

J. S. Dancy.

THIS MEDICINE
WOMEN VALUE

Positively Relieves the Suffering.

More Convincing Proof.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first introduced its curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of it spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from its use its value has become generally recognized and it is now the standard medicine for women's ills.

Dennison, Texas.—"I cannot feel that I have done my duty until I tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles so I could hardly drag around and do my work. I was very nervous, and had dizzy spells, heat flashes, and headaches until life was a burden. My husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon began to improve. I continued its use and am now free from all pains and aches that made life a burden. You may use this letter in any way you like for I want the world to know what a grand medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is." —Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 911 S. Barrett Ave., Denison, Texas.

The above is the leg style that sets up well off the floor on a special base. It is also made with cabinet style base.

FREE! FREE! FREE!
